ViaInsurance Agency

If you are sending your child off to college this Fall, please remember if they are living in an apartment with a lease, their personal property and premises liability are EXCLUDED by your home owner's insurance. Personal property and premises liability are only covered in a dorm setting. Plus, if they have roommate, each person will need a renter's policy. For parents of children with school-provided musical instruments and electronic devices, please be sure to check the school's policy for student responsibly of loss, theft or damages. Contact Beth Combs to ensure your family is covered.
